

Our Story

Since 1921, we have built our reputation as a construction services firm that puts people first. By harnessing the power of relationships between our clients, partners and employees, we transform landscapes, communities and minds. We're also comfortable with good coffee and conversation.

Beyond the Build, S. M. Wilson is committed to building great value, relationships and careers while having fun in the process. After nearly 100 years, we say we're "more than a construction manager", our clients say "we just get it."
