

What We've Built

As a construction management, design/build and general contracting firm, S. M. Wilson has transformed landscapes and communities throughout the county, especially in the Midwest. We build in a multitude of markets including commercial, education, federal, healthcare, industrial, retail and senior care.

We understand everything we build isn't just bricks and mortar; it's about the people...those who learn, work, live and enjoy the spaces we construct. We build safe and effective environments for our clients that stand the test of time. Our work is as diverse as our ideas. We say we're "more than a general contractor", our clients say "we just get it." Let us help you envision your future and then build it.
