

S. M. WILSON NAMES NEW EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP TEAM

St. Louis, Mo., NOVEMBER 4, 2019 – S. M. Wilson & Co. is under new leadership in an effort to provide more value and personalized experience for their clients, partners and employees.

“Today we are naming a new executive committee to provide strategy, planning, development of our people and most importantly open communication,” said Amy Berg, S. M. Wilson & Co. President.

The firm’s new executive committee will consist of eight team members including four existing members – Scott Wilson, Chief Executive Officer; Amy Berg, President; Mark Cochran, Chief Operations Officer; Mike Dohle, Chief Financial Officer and four new members – Steve Meeks, Vice President of Pre-Construction and Estimating; Amanda Bohnert, Chief Marketing Officer; Rebecca Cornatzer, Chief Human Resources Officer and Jack Kinamore, Project Director.

The new executive committee will be focused on technology, lean construction and vertical integration through an experience-based approach.

“This team has been chosen for their exemplary leadership and passion for S. M. Wilson’s success,” states Berg. “Our new executive committee will maintain the values of respect for all people, trust and humility. They will lead us to continued success and growth.”

S. M. Wilson is a full-service construction management, design/build and general contracting firm with headquarters in St. Louis. For nearly 100 years, S. M. Wilson has provided a complete range of services and has become one of the leading general construction and construction management firms in the St. Louis area. The employee-owned company is dedicated to going above and beyond expectations for their clients by putting people first. The firm is preparing to closeout there most profitable year historically. For more information, visit www.smwilson.com.